

Grading Criterion for Problem Set, Self-Grade, and Reflection

Problem Set:

Satisfactory	Unsatisfactory
<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Appearance of a good faith effort to complete all problems.• For incomplete problems, did you explain what strategies you tried.• Responses are legible	One of more of the conditions for satisfactory completion are not satisfied

Self-Grade:

Satisfactory	Unsatisfactory
<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Thorough and accurate marks for problems where you did not earn full credit• Clearly explained why points were deducted.	One of more of the conditions for satisfactory completion are not satisfied

Reflection:

6 points	4 points	2 points	0 point
Reflection explains the student's thinking and learning processes, as well as implications for future learning. It is specific, and demonstrates critical thinking about learning progress, successes, and struggles.	The reflection explains the student's thinking and learning processes, and is somewhat specific.	The reflection attempts to demonstrate thinking about learning but is vague and/or unclear about the personal learning process.	The reflection does not address the student's thinking and/or learning.